

Hidden Treasure... Adding value to your products and services

Taco and HTP products and services can increase your knowledge and put money in your pocket; invest in your hydronics education and buy heating products that give you cash/prize rewards.

Knowledge = ways to best serve your customer's needs.

As a hydronics professional you are always in search of ways to add value to your customer's choices; they rely on your expertise to make cost effective purchases that give them the best, most efficient, hydronics systems available.

Taco and its FloProTeam, help you to help your customers. FloPro University is an online resource to educate yourself in the latest information in the hydronics industry.

Some of the courses available are:

- Hydronic Design Part 1 and 2
- Wiring for Hydronics
- Estimating Fuel & Electrical Consumption in Hydronics
- Variable Speed Pumping: Where, Why and How to Use It
- Financial Basics for FloPros: Using Financials to Make More Profitable Decisions
- Solar Water Heating

John Barba's Neighborhood, a network for HVAC professionals, gives you access to a wide variety of information and experience that you can put to use in your projects.

HTP has a program that will put money in your pocket.

Purchase an HTP heating product and receive Contractor Rewards points!

At HTP contractors are our most important customers. We want to make sure you understand the products you are working with. If you would like a free consultation with us for more information about our products, please fill out the form below.

Earn rewards for purchasing with us - fill out the contact form below to receive more information.

The HTP Contractor Rewards Program gives you points by purchasing HTP products to redeem great prizes. HTP Rewards include iPads, cameras, select water and space heaters, cash giveaways, and much more! This program is for contracting companies.

*To receive the points, you must verify your purchase by submitting a confirmation invoice. Additionally, in order to receive the points, the form must be filled out before your purchase of the HTP product.

Call HSC today 800-786-6847 for more info

A Sensible Technologies Inc. Company